Course description

The first year, Modern Tibetan Language class introduces the students to spoken modern Tibetan dialect used in central Tibet as well in Tibetan communities all over the world. Our aim is to develop basic language skills, which include speaking, listening, reading and writing skills that enable the students to communicate with native speakers and read basic target language books and other materials. The first semester class meets Monday through Friday five days a week, four sessions a day and each session is 50 minutes.

In the Purple Lotus lesson package (Modern Tibetan Language hand out) has 16 units in two separate booklets that will be covered during semester A and semester B. Each unit consists of dialog, vocabulary and grammatical explanation so that students could gain good knowledge of conversational, vocabulary and grammatical insight. Students will engage in various activities in the classroom such as group work, pair work, and individual activities. In the first year elementary level we aim to cover two units a week and thoroughly study the whole content and use as much time in conversation and dialog between teacher and student and student-student to facilitate Language learning process. Students will hear and use only target language in the class. Should there be concerns that need to be explained in English, students are welcomed to discuss them with the instructor before/after class or during the office hour.

Placement of students in the appropriate levels:
Based on teacher’s assessment, teacher may move a student to a level of instruction more commensurate with the student's abilities.
Objectives

Course Requirement

Active participation is required and key to this language course and missing classes will affect your grade. We can’t afford to miss classes during this summer intensive program and thus missing more than 2 classes without valid excuse will automatically reduce your grade. Students are required to read the grammatical explanations of the lesson before coming to the class. Class hour will be focused on conversational activities.

Homework:
All the students are expected to pre study the vocabulary and practice the conversation section from the chapter prior to the class. Students are required to turn in 10 written sentences every Tuesday and Friday using the verbs, adjectives and vocabularies and specific structure used in the current chapter. All assignments should be turned in on time. Late assignment will not be graded.

Vocabulary quizzes: There will be pop up oral quiz every day for few minutes in the beginning of the lesson. Instructor will ask random vocabulary from the lesson and thus, students are responsible to memorize the vocabularies of the current chapter and master over the vocabulary prior to coming to the class. Audio files of vocabulary for the first few lessons will be sent to students by the instructor for your pronunciation purposes.

Written quizzes:
There will be written quizzes every Friday during the last session of the day. The quiz will be on the lessons that are covered during the week. The format of your written quiz will be combination of multiple choices, matching and writing the vocabulary meanings in TL script.

Weekly presentation (Fridays)
Students are assigned to do short presentation in class every Friday of your own choice of topic / theme. Most likely related to the topic that is taught in class. The length of presentation is from 5 to 7 minutes for each student. Further discussion about the presentation will be done during the first week of the class. And there will be discussion and question and answer session after the presentation.

Oral exam:
For our oral exam, your instructor will provide you a list of topics with images to choose from for your oral exam. All the topics will be from the lesson covered in class and the length of the oral exam will be 5 -7 minutes. Important elements to focus in oral exam is to make sure that students use fair amount and proper usage of grammar as well as the structures learned in class. More detail will be discussed in class as we approach closer to the exam.
Reading exam:
Your instructor will provide you with few short stories and students will get to choose their story for the reading exam. Key focus in the reading exam will be pronunciation accuracy, proper pausing, and pace of the reading. At the end of the reading students will be given a two minutes to explain / summarize the story to check their comprehension level.

SASLI CULTURE DAY:
All the students are required to participate in the SASLI culture day. The culture day performance details will be discussed during the first week of the class. Any questions and concerns will be addressed during that week. Day and time for the Culture Day will be posted as it becomes available from the SALSI office.

Projects:
Students are required to do one project for this semester and turn it in during the last week of the semester. The details of the projects will be discussed during the first week of the class.
